Designed for Every 12th Grade ELA Student.

Connections in Language & Literature prepares 12th-grade students for college, careers, and beyond with flexible instruction that builds essential reading, writing, and analytical skills. An adaptable chapter structure gives you the flexibility to teach chronologically or thematically while supporting students as they build skills and academic confidence.

Key Features

- Explore British and world literature across every anthology chapter with a flexible selection of texts that allows you to focus on specific literary traditions or take a broader global approach.
- Build essential reading and communication skills in Chapter 1, "Becoming an Active Reader" through activity-based instruction in close reading, argument analysis, annotation, and active listening.
- Engage students with six relevant themes designed for high school seniors, including Heroes and Monsters, Fate and Free Will, Nature and Technology, Money and Happiness, Tradition and Progress, and Self and Society.
- Connect classic literature with contemporary voices through 118 diverse print and visual texts featuring authors such as Shakespeare, Austen, and Woolf alongside contemporary voices like Chimamanda Ngozi Adichie and modern translations of Beowulf.
- Develop practical communication skills with "Writing in the Real World" activities that connect classroom learning to college and career applications, from the college essay and personal narrative to a dedicated Cover Letter and Resume Writing Workshop.
