

Human Geography for the AP Course Resource Materials

Annotated Teacher's Edition (print and ebook-available in Achieve digital platform)

Resources (available in Achieve)

- Professional Development Unit Overview Videos. These videos offer tips and advice on how to teach with the new Course Framework, what to emphasize in a given Module, how to anticipate and overcome common pitfalls, as well as tips for helping students realize success in the course and on the AP® Human Geography Exam.
- Editable Lecture Presentation Slides.
- Case Studies with corresponding questions to inspire your students
- Activities and Handouts (teacher and student versions)
- Human Geography Extras. This is a curated catalog of videos, articles, and resources from the web to use with your class. These might be resources that you are already familiar with, but they are all gathered, by unit, with a reference to relevant book content, the link, and instructional notes.
- An Additional Free Response Question, with answers, for each Unit
- Field Work Activities The Unit-closing Field Work activities will help your students to see how human geography is grounded in their daily lives and in the world around them. These activities will get students out exploring their communities and answering targeted questions to deepen their skills of analysis. Optional “virtual field work activities” are provided for students who require alternate means of accessing this work. Understanding how to apply Unit concepts to actual situations will help motivate learning and prepare students for the kind of analysis the AP® Human Geography Exam requires.
- End-of-Year activities.
- Full correlation to the CED.
- Map labeling exercises.
- Suggested answers.
