

Expressing gratitude reduces stress and makes us more resilient.

What's something you're grateful for?

Using iClicker to Reflect on Your Lesson Plans

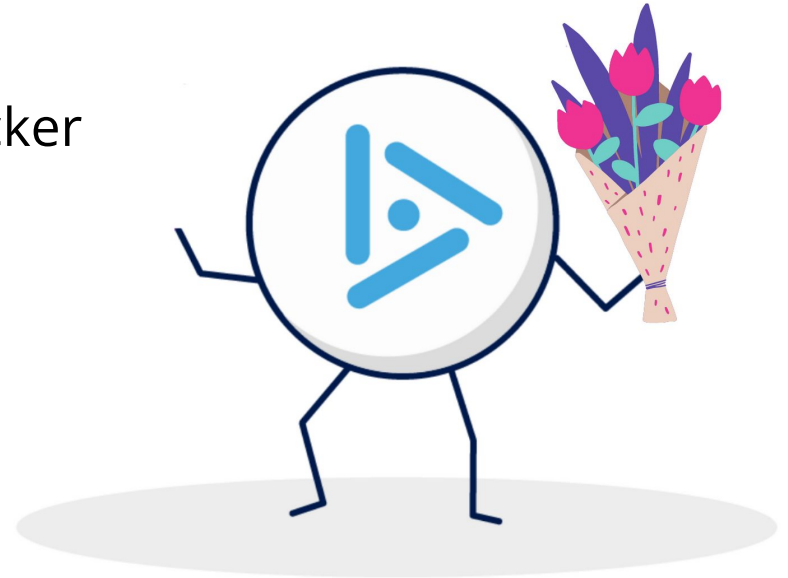

Lindsey Thomas Barranca, Training & Documentation Manager

Natalie Dougall, iClicker Training Specialist

Community College Composition and Literature Instructor

Agenda

- Gathering Helpful Data with iClicker
- Assessing Your iClicker Data
- Other iClicker Areas to Explore
- Question & Answer

How do you measure improvements in your class term-over-term?

Gathering Helpful Data with iClicker

- Attendance
 - Set to Auto-Run at the start of the term
 - Delete holidays/exam days
- Polling
 - Ask a minimum of one polling question per class
- Exit Poll
 - End each class with an exit poll

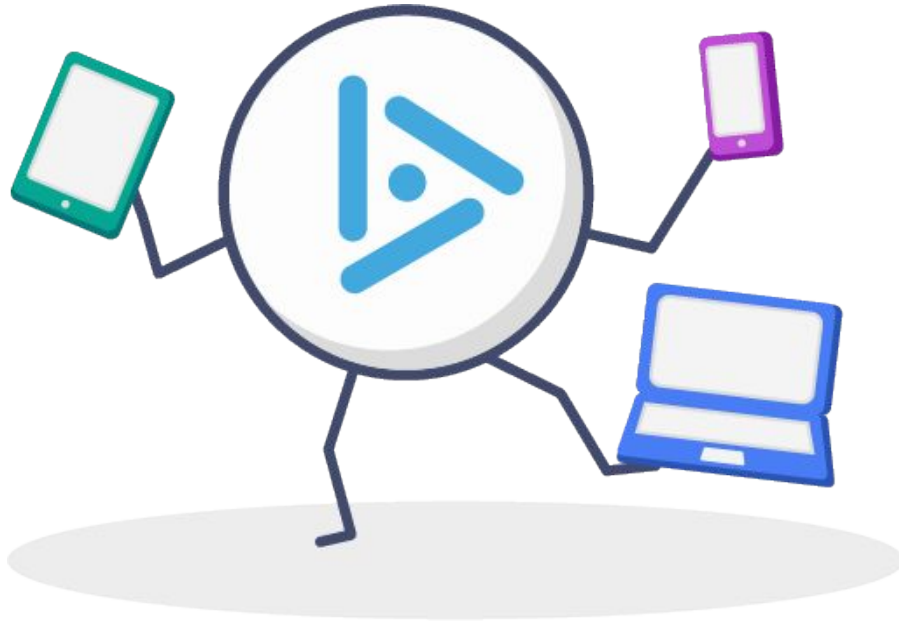

How do you decide what worked and what didn't at the end of a term?

Assessing Your iClicker Data

- Archive your completed iClicker courses
- Export All Activities
- Attendance
 - Which course was the most and least attended?
- Polling
 - Which session had the most and fewest correct answers?
- Exit Poll
 - Which sessions were rated most and least clear?

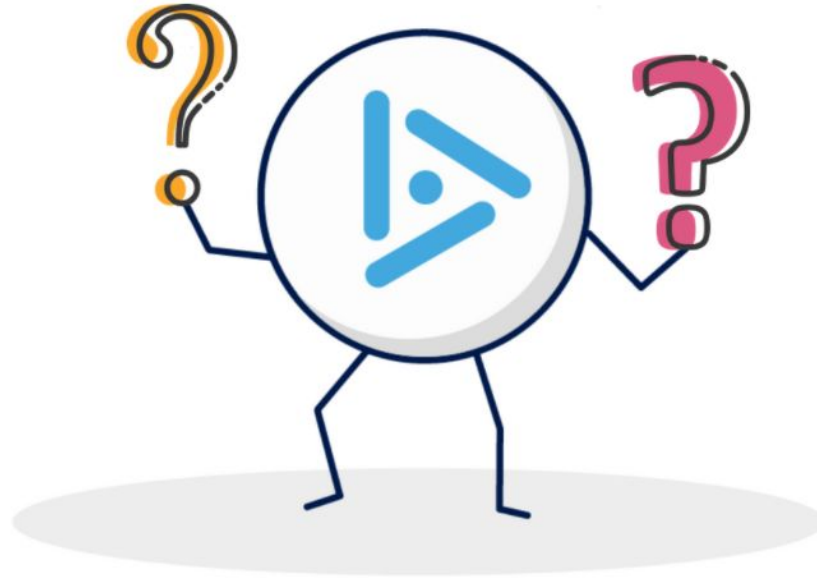

What's your solution to a class with historically low attendance?

Other iClicker Areas to Explore

- What assessments am I retiring?
- What data do I wish I had that I could start gathering now?
- Use iClicker Assignments for custom feedback requests from your students

Questions? Comments?

Thank You!